GASKILL'S TESTIMONY.

(Special to the Tribune)

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 30.—The investigation into the Paris Commission's acts and affairs was resumed this afternoon.

Since yesterday's session the committee has had several conferences at which it was decided that witnesses would be required to treat the committee with respect.

Those not observing this rule will be taken before the bar of the House to show cause why they should not be punished for contempt.

Mr. Foote was not present when the committee was called to order, but he came in a few minutes.

GASKILL CALLED.

V. W. Gaskill, Secretary of the Commission, was called and asked by Chairman Bliss as to the records kept by him, and how they were kept, etc. He explained the methods of issuing medals.

He said that the Commission had directed the steps that he had taken. He had written the letters to exhibitors informing them how much money was required.

The checks received from exhibitors for medals were kept in a tin box and kept in his office.

They were indorsed by him and then given in a bunch to L. A. Emley with instructions to go and purchase the medals and forward them to the exhibitors.

What Emley had done about it the witness did not know, as he had left Paris very shortly after the checks were given to Emley.

GASKILL EXPLAINS.

Gaskill explained the Chipman affair as witness Foote had done.

Treadwell questioned witness as to his salary.

He had continued at a salary of $250 a month until the 16th of December, 1899.

Gaskill read from his minute book the action of the Commission raising his salary to $300.

In July the Secretary was allowed an expense account of $150 a month. It was a retroactive resolution.

He had been drawing $125 a month for expenses and the Commissioners used it to $150 and paid for back months.

TELLS ABOUT MEDALS.

Gaskill testified that he had his wife with him and occupied two rooms at the Commission's headquarters for which he paid no rent.

It cost $1,200 to fit up the headquarters.

Coming back to the medals, Treadwell asked if Gaskill knew when he got the first letters how much the French Government would charge, and Gaskill replied that he did not.

He said the prices were not mentioned in his first letters.

COST OF MEDALS.

Where did you learn the cost of the medals?

I learned it from Emley."

Did you ask no questions?"

"No, that was his department. I presumed that he knew."

You never heard from any source except that what med. is cost?"

"No, I never did."

And you had nothing to do with the handling of the money?"

Nothing whatever."

What was the price of the medals?"

"Grand Prix, $50, gold medall, $25, silver medall, $20, and bronze medall, $15."

THE ATTACHES.

The first attaches were appointed July 1st.

Gaskill named Dargle, Emley, Hatch, Young and one or two others that were appointed at that time and stated the duties of each.

Witness said the receipts given to Wiggin, of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, were unusual.

This had never been done by any exhibition.

Stewart asked what became of the wine exhibit of the Southern California Wine Company, and Gaskill said that it had been sold.

Has the money been paid to the company?"

"Not yet."

"Why not?"

"Because we have not had the opportunity."

WINE SOLD.

"Do your accounts show the sale of this wine, the amount of money received for it?"

"No, the books show only the money received from the sale of exhibits."

Gaskill did not know of the sale of any oranges.

THE SALARIES.

Gaskill was then asked as to other attachés and said the salary of C. L. P. Marsh was $400 a month and travelling expenses began October, 1899. Emley's salary began July 7th and continued to close, W. D. Dargle Jr.'s salary of $75 a month began in July and continued to the close, and Rob Rose $100 a month was paid for three months.

GASKILL SHOWS MEDALS.

Gaskill exhibited some of the medals to the committee.

While he was waiting for the medals to be struck off he went on a trip through Europe.

Major Truman said he would look after Gaskill's business for him while he was away.

NO LOBBYING.

Asked if he had not been at Sacramento lobbying for the Parks Commission bill, he replied:

"No, I was here working as hard as I could for the election of Colonel Burns for United States Senator. He had got his position through the favor of the Commission."

Witness stated that the wine had been sold and the money was ready for the exhibitors.

V. W. GASKILL TELLS OF HIS WORK

L. A. Emley Handled the Money for the Medals.

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire. SACRAMENTO, Jan. 30.—Varney W. Gaskill, Secretary of the California Parks Exposition Commission, was the first witness called before the Committee on Commissions and Public Expenditures today.

GASKILL'S LETTERS.

The committee at once took up the matter of medals.

The witness stated that at the suggestion of Mr. Foote and with the consent of the other Commissioners, he had written letters to each exhibitor, telling them of the medal he had won and what it had.

The draft was directed to be made out in the name of the witness, for the Commission could not open a bank account in Paris.

He had turned the money over to Dargle to purchase the medals and deliver them to exhibitors.

No medals had been delivered to persons other than exhibitors.

VISITORS AT HEADQUARTERS.

The witness stated that he could give no estimate of the actual number of persons who visited the place daily.

BACHE TO MEDALS.

Returning to the subject of medals, the witness said that he had no knowledge of what the French government was charging for them when he wrote the first letter.

When he wrote the second letters he had quoted prices.

Emley had furnished him with the prices.

He had made no effort to verify Emley's figures.

CAVE A BOND.

Witness had no circulars showing what the French government charged for medals.

The first he had seen was the one which Mellick showed yesterday.

The witness had had no experience in Exposition work when appointed Secretary of the Commission.

He had given him $4,000 bond at his own suggestion.

DIRECTED BY COMMISSION.

Everything that had been done by witnesses had been done under the direction of the Commission.

The receipt which had been given the Southern California Wine Company agreeing to make return for the wine placed on exhibition in Paris had been under the direction of the Commission.

Witness stated that the wine had been sold and the money was ready for the exhibitors.

AGENT PAID.

The sum of $7,500 had been paid for the rent of the California headquarters in Paris and $1,200 rental for the furnishings of the place.

SOLD FIXTURES.

The show cases and fixtures that had belonged to the Commission had been sold for $460. This included the wine exhibited by the Southern California Wine Company.

TRIP AT HIS OWN EXPENSE.

Gaskill stated that he had been present in Paris all the time except during the first few weeks while the headquarters were being fitted up. He had taken a trip to Southern France at his own expense.

Mellick returned to the matter of Gaskill's having lobbied for the bill creating the commission.

The witness stated that he had not heard of the bill until it had passed.

He had not consulted any estimation that the Legislature had made in on which to base the appropriation for the fair.

FRIENDS HELPED HIM.

He had received his appointment through the favor of the Commissioners.

None had always been for him, but he had asked friends to see Runyon in its behalf.

EMLEY CAN TELL.

Going back to the Southern California Wine Company's exhibit, the witness stated that Emley had charge of the wines and could tell the Commission where they had gone, how much and how much remained after the exposition.

THE WINE ROOM.

Mellick asked in what way the wine room at the California headquarters differed from an ordinary bar-room.

Gaskill replied that in ordinary bar-rooms any kind of drinks could be had, but in the wine room only California wines were furnished.

On cross-examination he admitted there had been twelve cases of beer and some French wine used in the room.

SEPARATE EXHIBIT.

The witness said that everything possible had been done to secure a separate exhibit for California.

IMITATION MEDALS.

The witness stated that he had heard there were imitation medals for sale in France, but did not know of it from his own knowledge.

He did not think that he had written letters stating that the Commissioners had the only genuine medals.

FOOTE WAS PLACED IN CHARGE OF SERGEANT-AT-ARMS AT THIS POINT.

KING'S PROCLAMATION.

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

LONDON, Jan. 30.—At the Privy Council meeting this morning the King signed a proclamation suspending business throughout the United Kingdom Saturday. The closing down will be so complete that even the restaurants and saloons will be shut up for four or five hours in the middle of the day.

Some of the afternoon newspapers will not be published Saturday.

GASH IN HER THROAT

Woman Uses Razor With Telling Effect.

Husband Broke Into House and Tried to Save Her.

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Jan. 30.—Last night, about 8 o'clock, Manuel Pereira, a farmer residing outside town near the Catholic Cemetery, gained entrance to his home by battering down the door which had been locked and denied him admission.

In the gloom, which was indifferently dispelled by a feeble light on a table, Pereira held upon the floor the apparently lifeless body of his wife in a pool of blood.

He drew back with horror and finally stooped to raise the woman when a feeble moan showed that life at least was not extinct.

The lamp was brought into service and in it Mrs. Pereira discovered a gash several inches in length in the throat of his wife, under the left ear, from which blood was even then welling.

The right hand of the woman clutched a razor, the blade of which was crimson with blood.

Terrified, the husband rushed from the house, announced the desperate deed to his neighbors and then some of the latter hastened for the nearest surgeon.

Dr. Reynolds responded. The wound was a fribid one, but the surgeon discovered that the jugular had escaped the sanguinary blade.

The woman was in a feeble condition, but the doctor succeeded in sewing together the clear-cut edges of the ghastly wound and then put the patient under the watchful care of a nurse.

Today Mrs. Pereira was still in a feeble condition and weak from the loss of blood, but hopes were entertained of her recovery. The unfortunate husband is unable to account for the most tragic deed of his wife. He had no intimation that his wife contemplated self-destruction. His first intuition that anything unusual had transpired was when he reached the door of his home last night, was prevented from entering and then the hearing of a groan within as if his wife was suffering from sudden attack of illness. The husband was bowed down with his affliction and will not be comforted.

BOARD OF FIRE AND POLICE COMMISSIONERS.

All the members of the Board of Fire and Police Commissioners were present at their regular meeting this morning.

Seven demands, aggregating $56, against the Police and Fire departments, and $1,000 against the Fire Department, and eight against the Fire Alarm and Police Telegraph fund, aggregating $30, were approved and allowed.

A number of requisitions from the Chief of Police, Chief Engineer of Fire Department, and the City Electrician were granted. As Rice, the Water, butchers, who had a contract for supplying meat to the City Prison, have assigned to Fred Becker, it was decided to continue making requisition on Rice & White, the bills to be countersigned by Becker.

Mr. Dow wanted to know if the new engine houses in the annexed district could not be put into commission.

Mr. Clement said the engines, horses and harness have been purchased.

Doyle stated that Electrician Carlton could complete the electrical appliances within an hour.

Mr. Snow suggested that the department was $5,000 short because the City Council had cut down the estimates that much. He did not understand that the buildings were complete in the sense that they were ready for occupancy.

Now think we will be open to criticism if we don't open the buildings for service and put them in commission. I make a motion that we ask the Chief of the Fire Department for a list of what is necessary to put those engine houses in commission and furnish same next Friday. I am in favor of either notifying those people out there they are not going to have an engine house until after January 1, so to go ahead and purchase the necessary bedding, etc., and appoint the them.

The suggestion as to the Chief furnishing a list of necessary supplies was agreed to informally and the Board adjourned.

CITY'S EXPERT GIVES FIGURES.

Valuations Much Higher Than Those of His Colleagues in the Case.

Proceedings in the water case opened this morning with A. S. Riffle, who said he graduated from the Kansas State University in 1881 as a civil engineer, on the stand as an expert for the city. He is the man who furnished the quantities on which Professor Marx and C. E. Moore constructed a remarkably cheap imaginary system of water works on Phono Creek. Mr. Riffle's estimates were on a scale of cheapness corresponding with the estimates of the other witnesses for the city, who all appear to be imbued with the flagrantly expressed by the rheumatic bricklayer Higgins, who said on the stand yesterday, "We'll clinch you if we can."

Mr. Riffle said he had done draughting and bridgework on various railroads, and had constructed water works in several villages in Washington. He was a subordinate of Engineer Arthur L. Adams in the construction of the Astoria water works. He started off with valuing the entire Contra Costa plant at $2,990,537. Exclusive of the Alvarado plant he valued the system at $1,874,951. The Alvarado plant he valued at $1,115,333. He said he adopted two methods in making his estimates. One was original cost less depreciation, and the other was reproduction less deterioration. By reproduction he meant the construction of a system that would be a substantial equivalent for the present system. All his valuations were exclusive of real estate, water rights, rights of way and land damages.

SUPDIVIDED ESTIMATES.

The estimates of the original Contra Costa system he subdivided as follows:

San Leandro dam	$745,770
Temple seal	257,615
Filter plants	114,313
Pumping station sand shop	15,771
Reservoirs	64,951
Buildings	15,178
Small dams	34
Distribution system	1,592,733

From this he deducted $1,693,034, which he said was the amount of depreciation. Including the early work that he did figure on and making no deduction for deterioration, his estimate of the cost of the whole system is not far from four and a quarter millions, exclusive of the value of real estate, water rights, rights of way, land damages and loss of interest.

His estimate of the original Contra Costa system tallies very closely with that of Engenier Schuyler and Le Conte. The value of the Alvarado plant he segregated as follows:

Reservoirs	$70,281
Pumping plants	111,730
Tunnels	25,850
Distributing system	993,671
Depreciation	63,394

It is notable that he estimated the cost of the Dirge plant at $9,580, while Engenier Moore, who had contracted it to gainer Moore, had a value of $10,000. It is also noted that he estimated the cost at the bagatelle of $5,487, or Court took a recess till 1:30 o'clock.

In the afternoon Engenier Riffle continued giving detailed estimates of the cost of the Contra Costa system. His gross estimate of the original cost of the old Contra Costa system footed up $2,97,429, exclusive of land, water rights, land damages, rights of way and loss of interest in placing the plant in successful operation. In this calculation various items, such as $14,000 for the abandoned dam, at the mouth of the San Leandro reservoirs, are not included. When the Alvarado plant were taken at the $2,750,000 valuation put upon it by Adams, Schuyler, and Klerker, the gross would be $5,359,429, to which would have to be added the value of the real estate and accessories of the original Contra Costa system. His final determination of value is based upon the theory which makes all the losses in operation fall upon the company.

MILAN, Jan. 30.—The funeral of Verdi took place today. All the authorities followed the bier. The ceremony was most simple, but most impressive, owing to the silent homage of the populace, who were present at the service in immense numbers.

The remains of Verdi were borne from his residence and placed in a modest funeral car, which, followed by a few intimate friends, proceeded to the church of St. Giuseppe, the facade of which bore the inscription, "Peace to the Soul of Giuseppe Verdi."

The religious ceremony lasted only five minutes. Then a procession was formed, headed by priests and with bremen marching beside the car, which was followed by friends of the deceased, the local authorities and leading citizens bareheaded, and attacked the Sailor's Rest, tearing out the doors and windows.

All the efforts of the officers to suppress the mutiny were futile. When ordered to the camp they refused to obey and threatened to dynamite the town.

A strong naval force was landed, the available troops were collected, and the rebels paraded and guarded all night long. At daybreak the troops were drawn up with loaded rifles. In front of the place where the West Indians were barricaded. The latter were ordered to surrender and were notified that if they did not do so they would be fired upon. The mutineers were finally cowed and were taken to the camp where they will remain under guard until a troop ship arrives to remove them.

LONDON, Jan. 30.—Lord Rosebery presided at a special meeting today of the Royal Scottish Corporation, called in London, to pass resolutions expressing sorrow at the death of Queen Victoria, and of congratulations on the accession of King Edward VII. There was a crowded audience. Nearly all the Scottish Lords were present. Lord Rosebery, remarking that he would pass lightly over the congratulatory part of the program, told His Majesty's speech at the Privy Council meeting sufficiently indicated the laws by which he intended his reign should be governed, thus promising to make his rule no less illustrious than that of his parent.

Lord Rosebery then dwelt in eloquent terms on the life and death of Queen Victoria, saying that in the whole history of mankind no death had touched such a number of persons in the entire world.

There was scarcely an intelligent individual in the civilized world but was profoundly moved. He wondered if his subjects yet realized how much they had lost, and what an enormous weight the Queen had in the counsels of the world.

It was not brilliancy or genius which could supply the advantages the gave Great Britain, but her fund of knowledge, which was unequalled by any constitutional historian. It was no disservice of other Kings to say she was the chief of European sovereigns and her influence in the councils of nations was always used for peace, freedom and good government.

Lord Strathcona and Mount Royal seconded the resolution.

PROTEST AGAINST THE OPENING.

Council Hears Objections to Washington Street Deal.

The City Council met three times last night. After the first adjournment it was discovered that the bond matter had been forgotten and the few members who had answered to roll call were "called back."

After they had donned their overcoats and hats and started for their homes the second time it dawned on some of the members that the election proclamation needed fixing and the whole outfit were haled back again.

Washington street opening, the bond proposition and the election proclamation were the matters under discussion.

The business accomplished was Washington street, laid over, bonds laid over; election proclamation, number of precincts in each ward decided upon.

There was a great deal of talk.

The Councilmen present were Taylor, Schaffer, Mott, Stetson, Girard, Upton, Johnson, and President Bartow. Mr. Mott expressed his disgust that nothing had been accomplished as a result of the evening's work and said that he was glad his term in office was so near an end. The other members did not talk.

The first matter taken up was the opening of Washington street. The protests from Martin Dunn, Abrahamson Bros., F. W. Schutz, T. Moran, Thomas Crotell, Saltwater Bros. and Kahn Bros., were read, and the protestants were invited to state their objections.

J. T. Moran called attention to the fact that the petition for the opening was signed by only one property owner and he claimed that there was no public clamor for the improvement.

He was followed by M. C. Chapman representing Dunn who asserted that the opening of the street would result in the total destruction of his client's property and a consequent heavy bill of damages to the property owners who would be taxed for the opening. He claimed that if the street was opened to Fifteenth street as much good would be accomplished, and the city would be relieved of paying for the Dunn property worth between $20,000 and $30,000.

Josephine Crotell objected to the opening of the street because the proposed new City Hall had not yet been located. He said the protestants were a unit for the progress of Oakland but he did not believe that the Washington street property owners who had built up their section of the city should be taxed for an unnecessary improvement.

M. Mott and the speaker had a brief discussion as to where the new City Hall should be located. Mr. Abrahamson said it would be fairer if it were placed on the west side of Washington street extended and Mr. Mott said that he had always argued that it should be in some other part of the city altogether.

Their discussion stopped right there and Sol Kahn took the floor. He said that the efforts to open the street had always been taken without consulting the property owners in the slightest degree and advanced that as a reason why nothing had been accomplished.

"We recognize," he said, "that the street should be opened. The only question is, how it is to be done. At present it will not benefit Washington street one cent. San Pablo avenue merchants want it but we will continue to draw trade from them just the same. They think that the avenue is like Market street in San Francisco. The difference is that in San Francisco all streets lead to Market street and here all streets lead away from San Pablo avenue. The property owners on Washington street know what they want but they think that the proper way for the Council to go about this business is to consult with them first. Then something could be accomplished."

Councilman Taylor acting on the suggestion, moved that the whole matter be referred back to the Street Committee and that the interested property owners be invited to a committee meeting held Thursday evening of next week.

Mayor Snow's message, relating to the Lake Merritt boundary ordinance was read and Councilman Schaffer moved that a committee on boundary, as suggested in the document, consisting of three members, be appointed. There was no second and Stetson's motion to lay the whole matter over until February prevailed.

SPORTING NEWS OF THE WEEK.

Jeffries' Sister May Go East to See the Fight.

A dispatch from Los Angeles says: "When James Jeffries steps into the ring in Cincinnati next month and faces Gus Rusulin there is a possibility that two female eyes may be devouring his every movement. Anna Jeffries, favorite sister of the champion, is preparing for a journey East. She has been the champion's earnest advocate in the Jeffries family, where the right and wrong of the boxer's career in the ring has been earnestly and often discussed.

"This time Mr. Upton acted as chairman. The matter taken under consideration was the number of voting precincts to be allotted to each ward. Girard argued for as few as possible, while Schaeffer claimed that the convenience of the voters should be considered, and that they should be given every facility. First Ward, 6; Second Ward, 6; Fifth Ward, 6; Sixth Ward, 5; Seventh Ward, 7. The polling places will be decided upon later. There will be two judges of election, two inspectors, two clerks and two ballot clerks at each polling place.

MERCHANTS TALK ABOUT CONSOLIDATION.

At the meeting of the Merchants' Exchange, last night, a couple of interesting subjects were discussed, among them the division of the county of Supervisors to build tunnels as well as roads for the convenience of the public.

On the subject of county division, a letter was read from Assemblyman McWade by Secretary Walker asking whether or not the Exchange was in favor of the bill on the subject introduced by Assemblyman Schilling.

The secretary read several paragraphs of the bill, among them the following:

"Whatever the inhabitants of a portion of one or more counties determine such portion shall be formed into a new county, they shall present a petition to the Board of Supervisors."

"Such petition shall be signed by at least 50 per cent of the qualified electors residing in that portion of territory proposed in that portion of new county whose names are on the great register, used at the general election last preceding the circulation of said petition."

"The electors of that portion of the county or counties which are proposed to be formed into said new county are to participate in said election."

The bill then specifies the machinery by which such proceedings shall be instituted and carried out. It is also provided that no new county shall be established which shall reduce any county to a population of less than 8,000, or which shall reduce the assessed valuation of any old county less than one-half.

Mr. Wixson said that the measure did not enable the formation of a city and county government in a section which might be left after the carrying out of another county out of a county in which division might be created.

Secretary Walker said that he thought some other measure would have to be introduced in order to enable a city and county government to be established in the section of Alameda, including Alameda, Berkeley, Oakland and the country west of San Leandro Creek.

D. C. Brown said that it would be difficult to determine under the measure proposed what constitutes the old county.

The subject was continued for two weeks.

It was announced that a tunnel bill had been introduced into the Legislature and that it seemed to have aroused no antagonism.

They say they jumped on the cars at Sixteenth street station. After passing Pinole they saw two men fired several pistol shots at them and ordered them to throw up their hands and be robbed, which they did.

Pinkhouse says he was done for $2.25 and Holland claims to have lost $45. Constable Ahern has procured John Doe warrants to meet and arrest the freight train crew when they return. Pinkhouse asserts that he was a switchman at the West Oakland yards, while Holland says he was employed on the collector's line. He also has papers showing titles to placer claims in Alaska.

WAY DOWN EAST

A STRONG PLAY.

A Delightful Mingling of Pathos and Humor.

The touching pathos and genial humor of "Way Down East" have taken Oakland theatregoers by storm. The Maedoune was crowded again last night by a delighted audience, which showed its appreciation of play and players by hearty applause. "Way Down East" is so true to life and so convincingly presented, both from a dramatic and a scenic standpoint, that the spectator forgets he is witnessing a theatrical performance, and imagines himself a visitor in rural New England for the time being.

The various types of New England character are artistically depicted by the admirable company. The Squire, and Mr. Holler in particular, are strongly individualized types of character that can be found nowhere outside of New England. For all that, however, the interest of the play is in the story,

COLONIES FOR CALIFORNIA.

President Hayes of the Southern Pacific Company has inaugurated a broad minded policy for California by his order reducing to bedrock figures the tourist rates to the West. Heretofore the Eastern Farmer of small means has found the railroad charges somewhat of an impediment in the way of coming here and his interest was consequently diverted to the northwest territories which he has created into the commonwealths of Montana and the Dakotas. The railroads traversing that sparsely settled section of the country were compelled to develop those territories as it was in making them populous and productive that their own salvation was based. As a consequence the fares were reduced to a low rate and every inducement was offered to colonists to settle upon lands which were then available at a very low price.

This class of frugal and industrious settlers is what California stands in need of, and the low rate offered by the Southern Pacific Company will turn the tide of travel in this direction. We have room in this State for many millions of people and in particular for small farmers who will render us independent of Nebraska, Kansas and other prairie States in supplying the local market with a sufficiency of eggs, poultry and such products. We have a great area of available public lands and a vast acreage of cheap property is yet to be obtained, so with our climatic conditions and productive soil there is no reason why the farmer of small means cannot become as prosperous here as in the Dakotas and Montana. This class will develop and the lands in the remote sections which are now practically in a state of the wilderness and in a few years there will be a different story to tell.

It is apparent that in making this move President Hayes has a thorough conception of our great needs and appreciates the situation out here. He realizes that we need a much greater population than we have today, and in reducing the colonist rate he is opened the door to a class that will be of vast benefit to the state. It now stands in hand for our mercantile and other organizations to augment this effort on the part of Mr. Hayes to add to our population, by making it a common cause to let these newcomers know what we have to offer in the way of cheap lands. They have small means and are not in quest of olive groves, orange orchards and well-stocked cattle ranches, but want small farms of cheap lands. They are compelled to rely upon their own industry and muscle to make their homes productive, and by seeing to it that they are given every opportunity to locate here advantageously there is no good reason why the population of this State should not attain the proportions to which it is so well adapted.

An actress was given half the front page of one of the leading San Francisco papers yesterday, the story being devoted to a relation of how she objects to being gratuitously advertised by having her picture appear upon belt buckles, scarf pins and beer signs. All of which shows how smart she is, for she got more free advertising out of her complaint than she ever received before.

A bill aimed at the nickel-in-the-slot machines has been introduced at Sacramento. It will be a novel experience for the operators of the devices to be on the losing end of the game, as they certainly will be until the legislators get through with them.

W. C. T. U. CONDEMS MRS. NATION.

Associated Press Dispatch to The Tribune

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Jan. 30.—The Cambridgeport Women's Christian Temperance Union is unanimous in condemnation of Mrs. Nation's methods and has passed the following resolution:

"Resolved, That as members of the Cambridgeport W. C. T. U., we deplore exceedingly the attitude of the Kansas Union of Enterprisers, and depurate the methods adopted for the suppression of the saloons in those sections. We feel that Mrs. Carrie Nation and others have strayed far from the paths of the pioneers of the work and have deserted the hedge of our allegiance, which stands for purity and peace, while as our Christian thought and pure as the teachings of Him whom we serve."

APPLAUDS MRS. NATION'S WORK.

Associated Press Dispatch to The Tribune

VINELAND, N. J., Jan. 30.—The Rev. Dr. John Ward Gamble, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal Church here endorsed and applauded the drastic methods adopted by Mrs. Carrie Nation in her crusade against the saloons of Kansas in his discourse before a large number of the most prominent women of Vineland last night. Dr. Gamble even advised the women of this city to emulate Mrs. Nation's example and smash all the unlicensed saloons or "speakeasies" in Vineland if the authorities fail to do it.

Dr. Gamble took the ground that, as the laws of Kansas prohibit saloons, this woman has the example of Christ as a precedent in what she is doing, and that the principle is identical. Dr. Gamble was prepared for the bar before entering the ministry.

ANGLO-GERMAN ALLIANCE.

Associated Press Dispatch to The Tribune

NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—A dispatch to the Herald from Vienna says:

Extraordinary significance is attached by the triple alliance to present events in England. King Edward's speech to the Kaiser is regarded as evidence of a lasting Anglo-German understanding. It is not thought impossible that a treaty has been concluded between England and Germany, it being pointed out that political considerations and the coolness of a large section of the German people would prevent the publication of such an arrangement.

PROPOSED LICENSE REGULATION

Senator Nelson Introduces an Important Liquor Bill.

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 30.—The full text of the bill introduced in the Senate yesterday by Senator Nelson of San Francisco in relation to the collection of a license tax on the business of selling liquor is herewith given as it is a matter that is of great interest to the trade in all parts of the State, and has a particular importance in San Francisco where the authority of the Police Commission in the matter of revoking and granting licenses is a prerogative of much consequence. The proposed measure deprives the Commission of this power. The new bill is as follows:

Section 1—All persons, firms or corporations engaged in, carrying on, or conducting the business of selling spirituous, vinous or malt liquors, anywhere in the State of California, shall for each store, carriage, office or place, where such business is carried on, pay to the State of California, a license tax on said business $5 per annum which license tax shall be payable quarterly in advance.

Section 2—Said license shall be collected by the tax collectors of the respective counties and cities and counties of the State. In their respective cities and counties and said tax collectors are hereby empowered, as of right, to collect the same and to assess and collect the same excepts therefore. Such receipts signed by the Controller of the State shall be by him furnished to the tax collectors, who shall be chargeable with the amounts named on the face thereof and who shall account quarterly to the Controller therefor.

Section 3—No such business shall be carried on without first and prior to the issuance of such quarterly receipt, having procured a permit for the carrying on of such business from the tax collector of the county or city and county in which the same is to be carried on.

Section 4—Such permit granted by the tax collector shall entitle the person to whom the same shall have been granted to conduct for the ensuing quarter the business for which such permit was granted and it shall be unlawful for any board, council legislative, or municipal body of any county, city and county, city or town in the State or any official thereof to prevent any person, firm or corporation to whom such permit shall have been granted from carrying on such business.

Section 5—The tax collector may revoke any permit granted and any license issued under the provisions of this act upon good cause shown, and shall certify in writing to the Controller, the cause and reasons for such revocation.

Section 6—Nothing herein shall restrict any county, city and county, municipality, or municipal body in the State from imposing any additional license tax on such business carried on in their respective counties or cities and counties.

Section 7—There shall be allowed to each tax collector full of all services rendered by him hereunder, ten percent of the amount of license tax collected by him under the provisions of this act.

Section 8—This act shall take effect immediately.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—When the House met today Mr. Taylor of Ohio, chairman of the Committee on Elections No. 1, submitted the report on the contested election case of Walker versus Rhei, from the Ninth Virginia District. The committee found that while graft and irregularities occurred in the election they fell "very far short" of changing the result. The committee, therefore, recommended that Mr. Hayes, the sitting member, who is a Democrat, should retain his seat. Atter, Laney of North Carolina and Samuel Davenport of Pennsylvania dissented from the conclusion of the majority and were given leave to file their views. The report will be called up in the near future.

The House then resumed the consideration of the agricultural appropriation bill.

HORRORS OF THE WAR IN CHINA.

Associated Press Dispatches by
The Tribune's Special Leased Wire

BERLIN, Jan. 30.—A special dispatch to the Cologne Volks Zeitung from China relates horrible details about the warfare in that country and says:

"We hope the awful conditions will soon cease. The depravity and bestiality also among our troops is enormously in the increase. Large numbers of old soldiers are sentenced to long terms in the penitentiary and jail for murder, assault, or burglary. Our losses are certainly greater than that way than by death."

Diseases are still rampant, especially Typhus. Dysentery is decreasing. During November there were 1,000 cases from disease in Pao Ting Fu alone, and also two from powder explosions. One magazine containing 450,000 pounds of powder was blown up, but only one man was killed and three men wounded.

HOW DOING A LITTLE POLITICS

Snow Says He Is Dealing in Fake Resolutions.

While the Board of Public Works was in session this afternoon, City Attorney Dow made a grand stand play over the matter of providing a pest house for smallpox patients. He offered this resolution:

"Whereas, in an informal discussion between the members of the City Council and numerous residents of North Oakland, relative to the necessity of the city making some provision for the care of smallpox patients of this city in cases where the patients have no homes or suitable places for their care during their sickness; and

"Whereas, this Board has been unofficially informed that the said members of the City Council expressed their desire to help in carrying out any action taken and to approve any reasonable expense that may be incurred by this Board in providing a suitable place for such patients; it is therefore hereby

"Resolved, That the Board of Health and it is hereby requested to immediately notify this Board whenever a case of smallpox occurs which comes within the preamble of this resolution, to the end that this Board may at once make available the means for the care of such patient, and as far remote as possible from the residence and business parts of our city."

Major Snow declared with warmth that the Board of Public Works had nothing to do with erecting pest houses—that it was entirely within the province of the Board of Health to locate and build a pest house, as the charter so gave the Board of Health that power. He also argued that no other organization had come from the City Council.

"If the Council does so notify us, how it will be referred to the Mayor and I will set them right," he added.

Down—When the public on the Council "pass the buck" up to me I am going to act. It was said in the press that the Council promised the North Oakland people that this matter of a pest-house should be referred to the Board of Works.

Snow—Meant Board of Health.

Snow—We have nothing to do with the matter. Why, I have just attended, by courtesy, a meeting of the Board of Health with the chairman of the Finance Committee of the Council. The Health Board has been assured that necessary funds for caring for small-pox patients will be supplied.

Down—Call the roll on the resolution.

Clement—I don't think we have anything to do with it. I vote "no."

Snow—It isn't a matter for this Board to pass on. No.

Down—Aye! I believe the public want us to take hold of this matter. I would not like a smallpox patient next to my residence.

Snow—It would be your misfortune.

Then Gler appeared and requested permission on behalf of the Oakland

Turn Verein to stretch an advertising banner across Washington street for one week. Granted.

The petition of J. A. Langstroth and two other property owners for the opening of Perry street from Leake avenue to Lake Shore avenue was denied.

Major Snow thought of a general plan for improving that section. He did not believe the entire park scheme should be abandoned. Perhaps it might be better to open some other street. He was not prepared to vote that the opening of Perry street would be for the benefit of the city.

He voted "no" to the proposal that the City Engineer Clement reported on the matter of constructing a roadway on Adeline street from First street to Boole &

Son yard, and estimated that if constructed at $1,250. If the material which has been pumped in be allowed to dry that a rock roadway be constructed at an approximate cost of $300.

In connection with the subject committee submitted from Secretary C. E.

Green of the Crocker estate, C. E.

Hayes, assistant secretary of the Oakland Water Front Company, and L. C. Sessions

Mr. Hayes' letter was to Mr. Green, and told him that the director of the grant a right of way to the Water Front

Company, its successors and assigns across that portion of the land of the estate in the city of Oakland which the City Engineer was requesting what would be the easterly one-half of Adeline, if extended.

Mr. Hayes then wrote to Mr. Sessions notifying him that in connection with the lease of the land to the Water Front

Company he had given the right of way to the Water Front Company.

BLOW AT PLAQUE FAKERS.

Senate Bill to Prevent the Circulation of False Reports.

Measure in Line With Recommendations of the Governor.

Associated Press Dispatches by
The Tribune's Special Leased Wire
SACRAMENTO, Jan. 30.—Three bills designed to prevent the circulation of reports as to the existence of bubonic plague in this State were introduced in the Senate today by Cutler of Yuba. They are radical in character and provide extreme penalties for persons who have anything to do with the circulation of such reports.

The first section of the first bill provides that any person who wilfully or maliciously exposes, handles or otherwise deals in disease germs, bacilli culture or other seeds of disease or sources from which disease may be communicated for the purpose of communicating such disease, or who negligently exposes, handles, disseminates any infections or contagious disease, or who negligently exposes, handles or otherwise deals with the same in a manner calculated to endanger the public health or to result in the spread of a contagious or infectious disease, is guilty of a felony and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by imprisonment in a State prison for a term of not less than one year nor more than ten years, or by a fine of not less than $200 nor more than $500.

Section two of the bill provides that any person, firm or corporation putting in circulation reports that Asiatic cholera or the bubonic plague exists or has recently existed within the State, unless the State Board of Health has first determined such to be a fact, shall be guilty of a felony.

Section three directs that when the State Board of Health ascertains the existence of the plague it must so notify local Boards of Health throughout the State and the Treasury Department at Washington.

The second bill appropriates $10,000 for the purpose of investigations by the State Board of Health and to prevent the introduction or spread of the infectious disease.

The third bill gives the State Board of Health authority to assume control over all local cases of actual or suspected plague.

The bills are in line with the recommendations made by Governor Gage in his biennial message.

Associated Press Dispatches by

LONDON, Jan. 30.—Lord Kitchener reports to the War Office under date of February, January 29th, as follows:

"De Wet has been engaged by Koxfort miles north of Thibabu. No details. De Wet intends again attempting an invasion of Cape Colony."

"Smith-Dorrell has returned from Carolina having dispersed the Boers."

"A force of Boers this morning entered Berburg and damaged two mines. Commandant Marais is among the prisoners taken."

The committee found that the testimony did not warrant a recount.

Treadwell's notice to reconsider the vote, by which Assembly bill 4 authorizing municipalities to incur bonded indebtedness for a period of less than forty years, as passed yesterday, was on Melville's motion laid on the table.

Brown of San Mateo introduced a number of bills, the purpose of which is to exempt those contractors by State with the San Joaquin Valley Railway Company, granting terminal facilities. The measures particularly approve the use of China Basin made in November, 1900, by the Board of State Harbor Commissioners to the railway company. The measures have already been introduced in the Senate.

In connection with this Brown introduced a constitutional amendment authorizing the Legislature to grant power to officials having jurisdiction over unincorporated lands, to lease them for terminal purposes.

Assembly Bill 54, introduced by Guilloye, required that the label of the Allied Printing Trades Council of the International Typographical Union of North America shall be placed upon all printing done at the expense of the State.

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 30.—In the Assembly today Sheldon introduced an amendment to the county government act of 1855, by which it is provided that a supervisor shall be nominated from each supervisorial district of the county, of which he shall be elected, but that he shall be elected by the county at large. During the term of his incumbency he shall reside in the district from which he has been nominated.

A number of bills were introduced by Webber providing for appropriations for improvements at the Napa River Hospital. They appropriate $25,000 for the construction of two cottages for the use of tubercular patients, $25,000 for the construction and repair of sewers, $10,000 for electric lights, $5,000 for an elevator, and $10,000 for the purchase of land for the use of the institution.

DETECTIVES GUARD KAISER.

Associated Press Dispatches by
The Tribune's Special Leased Wire

COWES, Isle of Wight, Jan. 30.—The construction of the mortuary chapel on the quarter deck of the royal yacht Alberta is proceeding apace.

The most elaborate precautions are being taken to prevent any hitch in Friday's arrangements. A company of the Queen's Guard this morning again rehearsed the military movements in the narrow and tortuous streets while the bears were experimented with a lead-weighted bar of the same weight as the royal coffin.

The Duke of Connaught has already returned here and King Edward is expected this afternoon at 2:30.

Emperor William of Germany landed at a little port in the grounds of Osborne House this morning.

Cowes itself is very quiet. The streets are practically deserted. The detectives continue the same rigorous precautions which have been observed since the arrival here of Emperor William. Every steamer or launch arriving on either side of the Medina river is closely scrutinized while the approaches to Osborne House are as thoroughly guarded as ever.

The authorities suspect the idea that they have any particular apprehension of the presence of undesirable foreigners.

The Deputy Governor has ordered all public places in the island to be closed from 12 to 4 o'clock on every day.

STANFORD IS VICTORIOUS.

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 30.—Assemblyman Anderson of Solano introduced a joint resolution requesting Congress to pass the measure at present pending before Congress, permitting the several States and Territories to regulate the sale of goods manufactured in State prisons and shipped to States or Territories other than that in which such goods are manufactured.

The Assembly passed the following: A. B. 25—To amend Sections 628, 632 and 635 of the Penal Code and to add thereto a new section, numbered 636 A, all relating to the preservation of life.

A. B. 82—Amending the act of 1883 creating the Bureau of Labor Statistics.

Assembly bill 190, exempting the property of Stanford University from taxation, came up on second reading. Guilloye moved to amend by striking out the words "exempting bonds held by the University."

Sutro spoke against the amendment, urging that its adoption would drive capital held by Stanford from the State.

Walker of Sierra spoke to the same end.

Cowan pointed out that this capital was not invested in the State and that the State was getting along very well without it. He was of the opinion that the Legislature should have no care what property of the University was exempted.

Roll call was demanded and the amendment voted down.

Adjournment was taken until 9:30 A.M. tomorrow.

W. W. FOOTE TELLS OF HIS WORK AS COMMISSIONER.

Says That Ben Truman Stole Ice and Wine From the Headquarters--Some Lively Testimony.

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 29.—Paris Commissioner W. W. Foote verified all the expectations that were entertained of him yesterday when he appeared before the Assembly Committee on Commissions and Public Expenditures.

It was said of Mr. Foote that he would make things very interesting for any committee which should undertake to question his acts, and that he did make it interesting to put it very mildly. He took occasion while on the witness stand to express his extreme dislike for Mr. Mellick. He broke in on the line of question that Mellick was putting to him with the statement:

"You've been circulating stories about me."

"No I haven't," said Mellick.

"Yes you have; you gave around a lot of newspapers that you brought up here with dirty stories in about me."

Mellick replied that the papers had been sent to him and Foote said, "Well, you gave them around. I'll see you off at that after we get out of here."

Afterward, at the close of the day's work, when Foote came off the stand and the Committee adjourned some time under took to introduce Foote to the members of the Committee. He shook hands with them all until he came to Mellick, and flatly refused to shake the hand of a man who, he said, had circulated stories about him.

Commissioner Runyon was still on the stand when THE TRIBUNE'S report closed yesterday.

He testified that Gaskill's salary, $200 a month, was still running on. If the Commission should get through with the investigation tomorrow the affairs of the Commission could be closed in about two weeks and thereafter Gaskill's salary would cease.

Mellick asked if any attache had a right to make any charge against any exhibitor, and Runyon replied, "Not unless the Commission sanctioned it."

LETTER BY EMLAY.

Mellick asked about a letter written by L. L. Emley, an attache, offering to give special attention to the goals of certain exhibitors for pay and Runyon said that Emley had no authority to do any such thing and the witness had never heard of his doing it.

Mr. Runyon said so far as he knew there had been no trouble between the Commissioners. He had never heard of any row, and there had been no combination between Mr. Foote and himself as against Truman. He did not know why Truman had not returned to this country.

W. W. FOOTE CALLED.

W. W. Foote was then called. He came up smiling and when sworn, asked to be permitted to make a statement. This was allowed. He then said that when he came to the State he sent to Governor Gage to meet him at the depot and he told the Governor at that time the Committee would have its report in about two weeks.

The people of this State had a right to know what has become of every dollar of their appropriation, and he wanted them to know about it.

STORIES PUBLISHED.

But there had been a lot of dirty stories published and if this matter was going to be gone into he would demand that charges be made and if any man should make them he would have him sent to the Penitentiary for perjury.

"I HAVE NEVER HAD A DISHONEST DOLLAR IN MY LIFE," SAID FOOTE AND THE MAN WHO SAYS I HAVE IS A LIE."

Mr. Treadwell objected, saying that he didn't think Mr. Foote's remarks were proper, whereupon Foote declared that they were proper.

"You have come up here to be investigated and I am going to talk."

Mr. Foote then jested to give a rapid account of what the Commission had done at Paris. He had spent $15,000 of his own money and he had his bank book with him and he would submit it to the Committee. He told of the banquet that the Commission had given to M. H. De Young and said that it was given not because it was Mr. De Young, but because he had been appointed by the President of the United States as one of the American Commissioners. It was a splendid affair.

"I had come doubt whether the Commission had a right to spend money for these things, but I concluded that it had."

"We had another entertainment at the Exposition rooms on the Fourth of July. I was in doubt about our right to hire Sousa's band and I went out and took up a collection and raised $1,000. And so we had the band and we had thousands of Frenchmen outside cheering the Star Spangled Banner. That was the best advertisement California ever had. Why, most of those Frenchmen over there think today that the United States is in California. I signed every voucher and Mr. Truman did."

Foote said that he was in Paris most of the time, but went away for two weeks for a little trip.

PAID HIS OWN MONEY.

He told of the pieces he visited and said it cost him about $500, which he paid out of his own pocket. He had a fine time and "I won enough money to pay all the expenses three or four times over."

Foote was closely questioned about the letters written and sent out by Gaskill notifying persons in California that if they would send money the medals that had been awarded would be forwarded them. He said that while he had consented to have the letters written he was not responsible for them. Some of the persons responded, some did not, and all monies were sent to Gaskill.

Runyon had said that he considered himself responsible for the money, but Foote declared that he did not take that view. He said: "I am not foolish enough for that. I did not receive a dollar of that money and I am not to be responsible."

Treadwell put a number of questions about wine being taken from the rooms of the Commission, and Foote said he had never taken a bottle of wine in his life. He always paid for his. Asked if anybody took any wine from the rooms, he said "Yes, Truman took wine, many a time."

AS TO WINE.
Soon Mellick stirred Foote to supreme wrath by pegging away at him.

"You're the man who has been calculating lies about me," he cried, standing over the committee's table.

Mellick protested, but Foote insisted that Mellick had brought copies of the "Western Graphic" to Sacramento and circulated them. Mellick said he hadn't brought the paper here, but copies had been sent to him and he had given copies to those who wanted them.

"I'll tell you some other time what I think about that kind of conduct, sir," rasped Foote menacingly. "Whoever wrote that article in the "Western Graphic" is an infernal lie."

Mellick read the circular from J. H. Gore, Juror in Chief, saying that silver medals were worth eighteen francs or $3.00, and bronze medals two and a half francs, or fifty cents.

"That is true," said Mr. Gaskill, having charged more?" he asked.

"Certainly not. If anybody has been charging too much for those medals I want to know it as much as you do."

Then Mellick read a letter from Gaskill to Bishop & Co. of Los Angeles, saying that the silver medal awarded the firm could be had for $20.

"More says the silver medal only cost $3.60," said Mellick.

"Do you mean to intimate that I have been taking money for medals?" roared Foote hotly.

"You jump at conclusions," said Mellick.

"Well, if medals were bought for $3.00 and sold for $20, somebody has been stealing, that's all there is to it, but I don't know anything about it."

TRUMAN'S TRICKS.

"You say you saw Mr. Truman go out of the headquarters carrying bottles of wine?" continued Mellick, getting on the volcano again.

"Yes, and he had his coat buttoned up to hide it. Sometimes he sent Andrew with the wine. He was breaking for his home around the corner, somewhere."

"You say you saw him do this fifty times?"

"If I said fifty times probably it was an exaggeration. I think I could safely swear to ten times."

"Will you swear to ten?"

"I don't know that I will. I don't think you are up to your job in cross-examining me."

"I know I'm not. I'm not a lawyer."

"I know you're not. You're a newspaper man. I'm on to you. I've got some circulars about you sent up to me from Mr. Jones. The committee can have them in evidence if they want them."

"No, no; that has nothing to do with me."

CARRIED TOO FAR.

The Fear of Being Deceived or Humbugged Prevents Many People From Trying a Good Medicine.

Stomach troubles are so common and in most cases so obstinate to cure, that people are apt to look with suspicion on any remedy claiming to be a radical permanent cure for dyspepsia and indigestion. Many such people pride themselves on their acuteness in never being humbugged, especially in medicines.

This fear of being humbugged can be carried too far, so far in fact, that many people suffer for years with weak digestion rather than risk a little time and money in faithfully testing the claims made for a remedy so reliable and universally used as Stomach Dyspepsia Tablets.

Now Stomach Dyspepsia Tablets are vastly different in one important respect from ordinary patent medicines for the reason that they are not a secret patent medicine; no secret is made of the ingredients, but analysis shows them to contain the natural digestive ferments, pure asperit pepticin (government test) Golden Seal and diastase, not cathartics.

What do they act principally on any particular organ, but they cure. Indigestion on the common sense plan of digesting the food eaten, thoroughly before it has time to ferment, sour and cause the mischief. This is the only secret of their success.

Cathartic pills never have and never can cure indigestion and stomach trouble, because they act only on the bowels, whereas the whole trouble is in the stomach.

Stomach Dyspepsia Tablets, taken after meals, digest the food. That is all there is to it. Food, not digested, or half-digested, is poison, as it creates gas, acidity, headaches, palpitation of the heart, loss of flesh and appetite and many other troubles which are often called by some other name.

They are sold by druggists everywhere in the United States, Great Britain and Canada.

"I sent a little French lawyer to me, and the lawyer called me Mr.

this investigation," protested Chairman Blas.

"Did you see Truman take anything else?"

"I saw him making a terrible grab for that $2,000 when we raised the limit of expenses, and I saw him taking that which I paid for."

There was not much more. Foote said he'd send the vouchers to his room, leave the committee there with them and send them something to drink.

"Have you got any of that wine down there?" asked Martin Brady.

"No, I'll give you up something you like better than wine," retorted Foote, and the laugh was on Brady.

Then Foote was excused till called again, and as the meeting was breaking up Chairman Blas introduced Foote to the members of the committee. When it came Mellick's turn Foote turned his back on the Pasadena editor.

"I don't want you to introduce me to a man who has circulated slanders about me," he said.

Mellick turned pale, but said never a word, and the committee went into one of those executive sessions in which it so much delights.

Mr. Foote told the story of the dismissal from the service of young Robert Ross, and of how he had come to Ross' assistance because he was a friend of the young man's parents.

When the committee was about to adjourn Mr. Foote adjured them to let him produce witnesses if they proposed to go into any "little dirty stories" and reflections on his honesty. He said he could produce about 500 witnesses to testify to the way in which he conducted himself in Paris, and he wanted to put on other witnesses to show where these attacks upon him had come from.

Adjourned to today.

After adjournment Commissioner Runyon, concerning medals, said:

"I'll take the responsibility in this matter. The Commission is responsible. The only official medals were those to be had from the man holding the medal concession. Those medals cost just what Gaskill and Emley wrote that they did. Some other item counterfeited the medals, and sold them cheaper, but they were not the official medals.

There is a sort over that matter now," said Mellick.

It can be said that Gaskill and Emley have positive proof that the medals cost what they wrote they did—$35 for a Grand Prize medal, $20 for a gold medal and $20 for a silver medal. They will produce their evidence before the committee today.

Losses Drove Him to Death.

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Wire.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 29.—Edward D. Cornell, a retired hat manufacturer and many years president of the Hatpin Union, committed suicide by hanging last night. Heavy losses in the stock market are said to have prompted the act. Mr. Cornell was 78 years of age.

Mr. Cornell of Fresno cast the one vote in opposition to the bill, and he spoke against it also, saying that he had studied the debt problem, and came to believe then, as he believed now, that dams were only a temporary expedient, and money appropriated would be thrown away, as was the money used for the first dam built after Marysville was attacked.

Mr. Cornell said he knew the bill would pass, but he could not refrain from uttering the warning that the money used would be thrown away.

Senator Cutter made an extended argument in favor of the measure. He said Colonel Houser had stated that Marysville was doomed unless the dams on the Yuba were constructed. Cutter added that if Marysville is doomed Yuba county is doomed, and if Yuba then also the counties of Sutter, Yolo and Sacramento.

The experiment now proposed had had the careful study and approval of Government engineers who have devoted years to the perfection of their plan and who think it can be made a success. Senator Tyrell of Nevada favored the bill in the hope that it might lead to the revival of hydraulic mining. Senator Devlin declared that on such ground he would oppose the measure, but the appropriation made by Congress was on the hands of the State.

Senator Tyrell of Nevada favored the bill in the hope that it might lead to the revival of hydraulic mining. Senator Devlin declared that on such ground he would oppose the measure, but the appropriation made by Congress was on the hands of the State.

Adolph Spreckels, who is a member of the State Board, is very anxious to have business rivals down in the city who have been disposed to throw obstacles in his way. Adolph Spreckels was to have been present at the last meeting, but failed to make his appearance. It is said that he will be here in a day or two, when another meeting will be held. The committee will probably report the bill favorably before the end of the week.

The affairs in the Assembly have been considerably impeded by the confusion over the Parks Commission investigation, and is likely to be the cause of the session dragging out to an unusual length, but the legislators are beginning to wake up to the fact that they will have to do something in relation to this and it is expected that some progress will be made, and the affair will be got at least under way within the next week.

Favorable action on Irish's Assembly bill, which is a counterpart of the one passed by the Senate, is confidently expected. Senators Treadwell and Cutler believe there is no objection to the bill. Governor Gage will sign the bills, which are understood to have been amended according to the Governor's suggestions.

The trouble which recently arose in Company F. N. G. C. seems to be in a fair way to be settled.

A few weeks ago Captain Bennett, who succeeded Captain Wenk in command of the organization, tendered his resignation of his position.

The resignation was forwarded to the Adjutant, and it was not openly known that the Captain had taken this radical step.

When some of the Captain's friends heard of his action they remonstrated with him and tried to induce him to withdraw the tender of his office before it should come up before the officers for its final disposition.

Bennett was reticent as to the cause which led to his desire to doff the shoulder straps, but it was understood that he felt there was division in the ranks and a certain number of the men would be pleased with his retirement.

Monday night, however, there was a meeting of the company and Lieutenant Colonel Hayes unexpectedly put in an appearance, gave sensible and conciliatory advice to the command, whereupon Captain Bennett decided to withdraw his resignation.
